

connectivity
services

Last Mile: Microwave Access

ARC Telecoms offers managed Microwave network access to provide a high-speed, high capacity business connectivity solution. Microwave is a wireless alternative for businesses requiring a cost effective last mile solution in urban areas where fixed line access is not available or for businesses requiring a redundant link.

Using state of the art microwave technology, this last mile access medium is a scalable solution perfect for businesses requiring large data transfer and mission critical connectivity.

Typology Diagram

Features

- Fast, reliable last mile access in urban areas
- Large data transfer capabilities
- Can be used for primary connectivity or as a redundancy option
- High quality access service backed by an SLA guaranteed uptime of 99.5%

Benefits

- High throughput with quality of service (QoS)
- No fixed lines required
- Dedicated last mile connection which can be bundled with various data packages, voice services and value added applications
- Scalable and flexible service
- Quick, professional installation

arctelecoms connect. communicate. create.